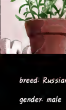
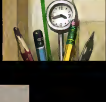
10 months after I broke up with Si Jin,
our pet cat died.



name: Gureumi
name the name means "clouds"

age: 2 years old

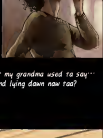


breed: Russian Blue

gender: male

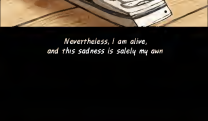
I realised something through Gureumi's death.

The reason why death is sad is because I am alive···



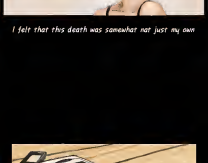
"At least people who've snuffed it can relax and lie down."

I suddenly remembered what my grandma used to say···
would she be relaxed and lying down now too?



Nevertheless, I am alive,
and this sadness is solely my own

Oh, there's one other person.



I felt that this death was somewhat not just my own

So I called her.

I'm going to get off at this stop. Just the moment I step off the train, my story will end.

Various feelings and sensations are stemming through my head but I decided in a moment that I will not care about those things.

Now should I say this--- because I want to enjoy the few seconds left of this story till the end.

Since it has not ended,
for a few more seconds.....
